CODE OF ETHICS FOR RESEARCH SCHOLARS

The institution has framed the code of ethics for those who engage themselves in research-oriented activities at different levels in its campus:

Paper Presentation in Conferences/Seminars/Research Forum

- The research article must be the original contribution of its author; it must not have been presented or published in any other Conferences/Seminars organized anywhere inside the college campus or outside.
- In case of data collection for survey sampling or using questionnaire, prior permission has to be obtained from the Head of the concerned department orally.
- Details about the Papers presented in Conferences/Seminars should be immediately reported to IQAC with a Xerox copy of the certificate.

Projects

- For UG and PG projects, the students are expected to choose a topic, not one chosen before, and get it approved by the project guide/supervisor.
- No part of the project should be copied from e-resources or from the work done by their co-learners or from any project done earlier verbatim.
- In case of plagiarism, the project work will be cancelled by the guide and the scholar has to rewrite and if necessary, re-submit her project.
- The choice of a problem for a project in science disciplines has to be unique and non-repetitive and pertinent to the locale. As per the saying, 'Think globally, Act locally', the scholars and researchers are advised to take up local problems for their research work to enable the surrounding community.

M.Phil/Ph.D

- For M.Phil. and Ph.D. programmes , the institution follows the norms and codes prescribed by the affiliated university.
- For late submission of M.Phil. thesis, an amount of Rs. 500/- is charged as fine for every six months of delay.

Journal

- The journal is purely academic, multidisciplinary, and funded by management.
- It is a peer reviewed journal.
- Only the original and significant research articles are published at free cost and with free access.
- The contributors can submit their manuscripts through online.
- The journal is published twice in a year.
